So Where Does My Membership Fee Go?

When you pay a membership fee to Saskatchewan Athletics, we do a lot to improve the quality of the experience for our members. This is just some of what your money does; our budget for this year calls on us to spend:

- $10,000 to help support meet development
- $5,000 to cover insurance fees to help keep our sport and members safe ($5,000,000 Liability)
- over $14,000 to help with the cost of sending coaches and athletes to our National Junior and Senior Championships
- over $28,000 to support Midget, Juvenile, Junior and Senior provincial teams
- $3,000 for new competition equipment
- $8,000 in support of Target Groups (Aboriginal and Disabled Integration)
- $31,000 for Introductory programs such as Legion Camp, Easter Camp and the Hershey Youth Program
- $40,000 towards the Run, Jump Throw grassroots school program
- $6,500 for officials upgrading, officials development and incentives
- $1,000 in support of Masters athletics in the province
- $4,000 to help clubs host major Track and Field competitions
- $1,250 to help Saskatchewan athletes compete in National Competitions
- $5,000 to help our Saskatchewan athletes compete in International Competitions
- $2,000 in support of Road Racing
- $50,000 on administrative expenses to run the Association
- $9,000 to support coaching development
- $7,000 for member recognition and appreciation
- $50,000 in support of athlete and academic assistance
- $3,500 on planning and upgrades to the website
- $5.00 of every membership fee goes to Athletics Canada to help support our country's national programs. Last year Saskatchewan Athletics paid almost $8,000 in fees to Athletics Canada

In addition: Saskatchewan Athletics reduces the amount of work our volunteers do by handling such items as government grant applications, membership services, records and rankings, sanctioning, risk-management, insurance administration, technical consulting, government lobbying, liaising with Athletics Canada and provincial bodies, communications, website updates, program development, championship administration, and accounting.
